Foreword

This book was published for the purpose of bringing back fond memories of the work and pleasures of the Senior Class of 1933-34.

The Pilot has not been published since 1931. This is a departure from the printed form, which costs more than revenue for its publication will permit.

It was also published with the hope that in the years to come, when the members of our class have gone out into the world and have become separated from one another, they may live again through the many happy incidents and scenes recorded in the pages of The Pilot.

ADMINISTRATION
TO THE SENIORS OF 1934:

We are indeed proud to count you as the largest class yet to graduate; and we will miss you after graduation. I am glad to say that the faculty and all congratulate you on being one of the best behaved and most active classes the school has yet had. Your attainments have been above our greatest expectations.

Be cautious; be brave; be honest. The world needs open minded and intelligent citizens who never cease to know and to care. Work; study; persist; be kind and helpful. Life has many blessings for you if you will only strive to achieve them. Your teachers, your community, your parents have done well by you. See that those that follow you may be inspired to do greater things by your achievements and examples.
THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As members of the largest class ever to be graduated from the Nederland High School I congratulate you. The work of a large majority of you has been splendid. You have been loyal, and you have usually succeeded admirably in whatever you have undertaken to do. During your senior year, your work on the Announcer and the Pilot has been most pronounced.

That same loyal devotion to accomplishment of your purpose in life will net you results far beyond your expectations. Remember, that nothing really worth while has ever been accomplished without a great deal of effort on the part of the person striving to realize his purpose. You will be paid for your ability to give value received in your work. Be sure that you are fitted for what you undertake, and then throw yourself into it with all your resources.

These four years of high school work have been most pleasant, and the friendships and associations which you have formed will live on.

As the curtain is rung down on your high school career, it is with sadness that we bid you farewell; but there are bigger and better things ahead for those of you who have the tenacity of purpose and application of self to achieve them.

C. O. Wilson
THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Parents,

It is with a great sense of pride and pleasure that I address you today to announce the successful completion of our school year. This year, our students have worked hard, learned extensively, and achieved remarkable milestones.

We have invested significantly in our educational programs to ensure that our students receive the best possible education. Our teachers have dedicated their time and effort to create a stimulating learning environment that fosters creativity and critical thinking.

We are proud of our school community and the support system that has enabled our students to reach their full potential. Your continuous encouragement and involvement have been invaluable.

Looking ahead, we remain committed to providing our students with the best educational experience. We are planning several initiatives to enhance our curriculum and improve the quality of our services.

We appreciate your trust and support, and we value the partnership we have created. We are committed to the ongoing development of our students and are confident that they will continue to thrive.

Thank you for being part of this remarkable journey. Together, we have achieved great things, and we are excited to see what the future holds.

Sincerely,

CLASS HISTORY

Game Time: September 8, 1930
Officials: Mr. L. R. Pietzsch, and Mr. C. O. Wilson
Referees: High School Faculty

First Quarter
The whistle blew for the first quarter of that great game of school. The seventy-one players went into the game with shaky knees and a nervous disposition. In spite of everything that the co-captains, Press and Mathews, said to inspire the team, the ball was fumbled often and many incomplete passes were made.

Second Quarter
The second quarter found the teams returning to the field more assured and self-confident than before. Although some of the players had been knocked out during the first quarter, this did not dishearten aspiring sophomores. Miss Earle and Mr. Mathews proved to be efficient captains.

Third Quarter
After the half, fifty-four juniors returned to the gridiron refreshed and eager to begin the last half of their high school career. Mr. Mathews again proved his efficiency with the aid of Miss Wood. Some of the students almost stumbled, but were successfully helped over their difficulties by the faculty.

Fourth Quarter
During the fourth quarter, the team was badly hit by Dan Cupid and by those who thought they had sufficient education; however, due to the splendid leadership of Mrs. Linson and Mr. Wilson, the rest of the squad were brought to a safe and successful finish.
CLASS HISTORY

Department of Music, University of Illinois

The history of the student body is the history of the school. Every student body has a story to tell; every student body has a past. The past is a source of pride and inspiration. It is a reminder of the accomplishments of the past and a challenge to the future.

The history of the student body is the story of the individuals who have made up the student body. It is the story of their achievements, their struggles, their triumphs and their failures. It is the story of their contributions to the school and to the community.

The history of the student body is also the story of the school itself. It is the story of the growth and development of the school, of its evolution from a small college to a major university.

The history of the student body is a story of tradition and innovation. It is the story of the values and principles that have guided the school and the student body. It is the story of the challenges and opportunities that have faced the school and the student body.

The history of the student body is a story of continuity and change. It is the story of the past and the future. It is the story of the student body and the school.

The history of the student body is a story that is worth telling. It is a story that is worth remembering. It is a story that is worth celebrating.

The history of the student body is a story that is a part of the school's legacy. It is a story that is a part of the student body's identity. It is a story that is a part of the school's future.

OF THE SENIOR CLASS

State of Texas,
County of Jefferson

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That we, the Senior Class of the Nederland High School, of 1934, being in best of health and of a sound mind, do hereby bequeath and publish, our beloved high school possessions, to wit:

1. Ashton Daigle to Johnnie Arnold, his four stripes and star.
2. Lillian Wolf to Betty Lou Manning, her sweet, quiet disposition.
3. George Vander Weg to Glyndora McCauley, his ability to milk a cow.
4. Ruby Harvill to Shirley Gibson, her knowledge of "how to reduce".
5. Ouida Eldridge to Melba Morgan, her beautiful writing so Melba can spend all her time on her spelling for the County Meet next year.
6. Arabelle Adams to Dennis Peveto, her sister
Iris.
7. Bob Haizlip to any aspiring Junior, how to edit a Year Book.
8. Bobbie Williamson to Florence Reynolds, all her claims on Clifton Eaves.
9. Winnie Bell Reed to Dorothy Meadows, all her time spent on Shorthand this year.
10. John Goodwin to Bernice Ener, his "Bing Crosby" voice.
11. Burrel Frazier to Iverson Meredith, his job as assistant janitor.
12. Laverna Eavos to Ruth Boyer, her auburn colored hair.
13. Rudolph Bodemuller to Juliet Davis, his scholastic ability.
14. Rene Mouton to Loretta Shearer, "I can't give you anything but love, baby!"
15. Velma Rae Yentzen to Marie Boudreaux, her flashing dark beauty.
16. Leon Ware to Chump Sanderson, his shock of beautiful curly hair.
17. Mayo Premeaux to Milton Mills, his S. A. in Economics class.
18. Horace Goodwin to Leonard Manning, his fiery red hair.
19. Mary Frances Konecny to any high school girl, how to catch the next single coach.
20. Juanita Gregory to Eileen Muckleroy, all her this year's bookkeeping contracts.
21. Evelyn Luke to Ruth Langham, her dramatic ability. (Judith!, the door!)
22. Hester Leatherwood to Leo McBride, her rumble seat.
23. Sanford Kelly to Thomas Moore, his pass to the boiler room.

25. Clarice Clotiaux to Evelyn Wagner, her sweet, quiet (sleepy), lovable nature.
27. Jackson Wolf to Bernice Duhon, his "polished" speech.
28. Lawrence Koeleman to J. C. Kelly, his slow, lazy, smile and sunny disposition.
29. Joe Hollis to C. W. Feild, the privilege of attending all the bouncers' meetings and not having your Spanish next day.
30. L. T. McBurnett to Gordon Wilson, his big, broad shoulders.
31. Russel Vernor to Garrett Terwcy, just a tiny bit of his popularity.
32. Bessie Ruth Koltner to Edna Mae Brown, her many Walkathon acquaintances.
33. Mary Louise Perryman to John Bunyan Koeleman, a jar of her facial cream.
34. Verlon McGee to George Jones, his sweet music of "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

35. Goodwin Griffin to Jack Streetman, his way with the "Wimmin".

36. Inez Mia to Olga Mia, her ability to foul off a basketball team during the first quarter.

37. Jewell Hayslette to Lesley Sweeney, her blues songs.

38. Clarence Peterson to A. V. Hamilton, his little pug nose. (heah, heah).

39. Tyonne Russel to Maryon Ruth Yentzen, two of her eyes. (The bettah to see you with, my deah).

40. Frances Goodwin to Lource Dold, her pretty, black, curly hair so Lource won't have to get any more permanents.

41. Emily Mae Mize to Mildred Shannon, her soft musical voice.

42. Janico Williams to Wilma Torwey, her amorous glances and wiggling dances.

43. George Shannon to Earl McMahan, his number 'leben shoes and his beautiful golden hair.

44. Marie Rienstra to Judith Schon, her ability to close her mouth.

The Spooks' County Fair, which was held in the Nederland High School gymnasium on October 31, 1933, proved a great success.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in the Hallowe'en colors. Booths were built around the walls, where different things were sold. Contests, races, tumbling, wrestling, and an old time barn dance were held, with old time music furnished by "The Lone Star Serenaders", Mrs. Huddleston, and "Dad" Robin.

A packed house witnessed a very entertaining program in the auditorium.

The main attraction of the evening was the coronation of Her Highness-the Queen, Velma Rae Yentzon, by His Highness-the King, Leonard Manning.

The Royal Family consisted of Princesses Iris Adams, Inez Mia, and Janice Williams; and Princes Russel Voror, Clarence Peterson, and Horace Goodwin.

The Nederland Bulldogs have this year experienced the greatest football season in the history of the school. Never before has there been such whole-hearted cooperation among the faculty, the school, and the community. This clone has been largely responsible for the successful football season; for cooperation is the foundation of all success.

It was also the cooperation of the team with Coach Konocny and Captains Daigle and Sanderson that made possible the six victories and one tie out of eight games played. The Bulldogs placed two men on the all-district team and one man on the second string; Ashton Daigle and Edward Sanderson, and Bob Haizlip. The community and school are indeed proud of such an outstanding team.

The old saying, "The bigger they come, the harder they fall", has again proved true. Nederland High School has a standing reputation for the willingness to play all schools, large or small, barring none. This year the Bulldogs have played every important class B school in the district except Dayton, who cancelled their game because of an overcrowded schedule. And did those big 'elevens' fall! and how! Orange, Liberty, and French were easy victims for the Bulldogs; and all those teams are not in the Kindergarten Class either. But Port Neches was the stumbling block of the season. Well, more power to them; but every DOG has his day!

Review of Football Season
REVIEW OF FOOTBALL SEASON

The football field is open for your enjoyment, and the players are ready to start their first game. The game will be played on Saturday afternoon. The weather is expected to be clear and sunny. The crowd is expected to be large, and the excitement will be high.

The game will feature the best players from our school and several other schools in the area. The teams will be evenly matched, and the game is expected to be a close one. The players will be wearing their new uniforms, which are sponsored by our school's booster club.

The game will start at 2:00 PM, and the doors will open at 1:30 PM. The concession stand will be open, and there will be a variety of snacks and drinks available for purchase. The price of admission is $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for students. Children under the age of 12 will be admitted free of charge.

The football field is located at 123 School Street. Parking is available in the lot adjacent to the field. There will be security personnel on duty to ensure the safety and security of all attendees.

We hope to see you there, and we promise an exciting game of football.

REVIEW OF WILDCATS SEASON

We have been told that hard work is the secret of success, and this basketball season has proved it to us. The girls and their coach have been steadily on the job, working to make the most of their athletic career at the least expense to the school. They are proud to report that again they have paid all expenses.

Aside from their athletic skill, these girls showed particular dramatic ability in the production of "The Mystery of the Masked Girl", a play from which they realized a helpful sum of money to defray expenses for the year.

Sweaters were given to nine girls on the basis of two years service and the greatest number of quarters for this season. These girls were Inez Milla, Capt.; Marie Rienstra, Mgr.; Bobbie Williamson, Frances Goodwin, Velma Rae Yentzen, Cuida Eldridge, Olga Milla, Loretta Shearer, and Evelyn Luke. Wildcat emblems were given to Maryon Ruth Yentzen, Lource Dold, and Gladys Alphin, who did excellent work as second string players.

Miss Pinkerton was awarded a sweater for her service as coach. In addition to this, she was surprised with a beautiful black felt "Nederland" pillow, with features in old gold. This came as a personal gift from the girls with whom she spent most of her time this season.

The team brought their season to a close after winning second place at the annual County Meet.
REVIEW OF WILDCAT SEASON

This past football season was an exciting one for the fans and players alike. The team faced challenges and emerged stronger from each game. It was a season marked by teamwork and dedication, with every player giving their best effort.

The highlights of the season included a series of home games that were packed with enthusiastic crowds, cheering for the Wildcats. The team's victory in the final game of the season was particularly thrilling, as it secured their position in the championship.

Throughout the season, the team was praised for their resilience and spirit, which never wavered despite setbacks. The coaches and players worked tirelessly to improve, learning from each game and applying that knowledge to future matches.

Looking ahead, the team is already preparing for the upcoming season, determined to continue the momentum and build upon their successes. With the support of their fans, they are confident in their ability to compete at the highest level.

The story of the Wildcats' season is one of determination, hard work, and the joy of competitive sport. It is a testament to the power of teamwork and the spirit of the game.

Miss Earle: "What do you mean by saying that Benedict Arnold was a janitor?"
Marie Rienstra: "The book says that after his exile, he spent the rest of his life in abasement."

Goodwin Griffin: "Yes, I'm a great singer."
Wilbur: "Where did you learn?"
Goodwin: "By correspondence."
Wilbur: "Boy, you surely did lose a lot of your mail somewhere."

Miss Wood: "Alvin, what is a cannibal?"
Alvin Ware: "I don't know."
Miss Wood: "Well, if you ate your mother and your father, what would you be?"
Alvin: "An orphan."
VERSATILE

Mary (on trying out a new cook): "Can you serve company?"
Maid: "Yes; either way."
Mary: "Either way?"
Maid: "Yes, ma'am; so's they'll come again or so's they won't."

Ashton: "Frances, there's something I've been thinking of for a long time. Something is trembling on my lips."
Frances: "Why don't you shave it off?"

Lawrence: "Yes, John and I are partners, but we don't sell the same goods."
Mrs. Linson: "That's funny. Explain yourself."
Lawrence: "Well, John goes around selling stove polish which leaves a stain on the fingers, and then I go along right behind him with the only soap which will remove it."

John: "Evelyn, that man is six feet in his boots."
Evelyn: "Gwan; you don't expect me to believe that do you? You might as well tell me that he's six heads in his hat."

Milton: "What is the boss' college son so swelled up about?"
Sanford: "A life insurance doctor just examined him and found him O.K."
Milton: "What of it?"
Sanford: "It's the only examination he ever passed."

Colored Lady (to insurance man): "I want to take some fire insurance on my husband."
Insurance Man: "Fire insurance? You mean you want life insurance."
Colored Lady: "I knows what I wants; he's been fired four times in the last week."
